GOOD LUCK YEAR 9 NETBALL TEAM!
COMPETING IN U14 COUNTY FINALS THIS SATURDAY!

What a fabulous bunch of young women! Above; our Year 9 Netball Team who have been training hard this week to ensure a selected squad are well prepared for the County Final tomorrow, to be played at Truro School between 8 qualifying teams.

Earlier this week, the squad below played in a County Netball qualifier at Truro School, winning 5 out of 6 of their games and finishing a very convincing second, which has won them a place in the final. Ably led by Captain Elsie, the team played 5, 14 minute, lightening speed games, some of which saw them scoring more than a goal a minute! We wish them the very best for tomorrow's game and will be cheering in spirit from home!

NORTH CORNWALL BOOK FESTIVAL

I for one have always taken an interest in books. Be it, how our universe works, where a poor bell boy might find treasure in a Russian countess, or how our human race came to be. All only at my hands. It seems books have got it all. The North Cornwall book festival proves no exception to this superlative principle.

Upon arrival we were greeted by a team of affectionate, companionable staff for whom I was very fond for their keen attire to running the festival and had it been without their loving presence the festival would not have proceeded as expertly and orderly as it did.

Our hospitality for the day was a humble tent that housed a rough carpet on the inside and wonderful cranes sat in twosomes across the walls. Chairs and tables, like apples and pears, distributed across the area. This was all very well for our first guest, Matt Abbot. A kind hearted man who lives by poetry. It was a bit of hot seating, he allowed all of us to contribute and even lead us in baby steps to writing our own poems. Had it not been for his tolerant and patient ways, I certainly would not have written 4 stanzas (yes I got carried away).

Quickly, we moved on to Joff Winterhart, a talented, born to be a comedian man with a genius that lead to the creation of a film "Days of Bagnold summer". He showed us graphic design in a way that left even him in stitches and the creation of a baby with a donkey leg named Jeffery

Perquiche. At a price of -80p we all got personalized drawings from him (he accepts mind payment).

Finally, we met the screenwriter fanatic. Christopher William Hill was a man of passion and that drove us to negotiate with each other over a Cadbury Crunchy Mini Roll. We all wrote our own short scripts to finish.

I, upon re-reading, have forgotten to add about the book shop. Every author did a signing or pre signed books and then shipped them our way. Matt Abbott's "Hurricane in my head" is the one which I managed to get my hands on, and it is the best poetry book I have ever read.

Written by Connor, Year 9. Drawings by Joff Winterhart.

YEAR 7 READATHON!

We are inviting all our year 7 students to take part in Read for Good's sponsored event. It's a fun activity that gives books to children in hospital and raises money for more books in our school.

What do you do in a sponsored read?

- You ask friends and family to sponsor you for reading as much as you can in the time given.
- You can choose whatever you like to read - stories, comics, non-fiction, newspapers, recipes, even an instruction manual - anything goes!
- Get sponsored per page, per chapter, per book or for every ten minutes you spend reading.

How do I get sponsored ?

- You'll be given your own sponsor card and bookmark - fill in your name, class and make a note of when the sponsor card needs to be returned.
- List what you plan to read (remember all reading is good reading!) on the inside of the sponsor card.
- Ask friends and family to sponsor you - per page, per book, per ten minutes, whatever suits you.
- It's really easy for sponsors to pay online at www.readforgood/sponsor - and means you don't have to worry about handing money in to school

- If they can't sponsor you online, they write it on your sponsor card and give you cash or a cheque to take into school. Remember, never ask strangers to sponsor you.

What is the money used for?

- The money you raise helps to buy brand new books and storyteller visits for children in hospital.
- Books and stories cheer kids up, relieve the boredom and help children in hospital to feel a bit better. !
- And our school will get to choose free books vouchers worth 20% of the money we raise!

What's in it for me???

- I can try different books, authors, types of reading to find out what I like the most.
- It feels good to help seriously ill children.
- My school will get free books!
- Kids who choose to read for fun are more likely to do well at school, in their GCSEs and 'A' levels, and later in life!

AND IT'S FUN!!!

I'm in – what's next?

- Choose what you would most like to read. Remember - anything counts!
- Try to read as often as you can and encourage friends to get involved.
- Remember the money you raise will be helping lots of children in hospital.

The Readathon starts Monday 18th October until Monday 1st November.

"Good books are as important as good doctors when you are in hospital. One makes your body better and the other your soul."

FOWEY ARTS AND LITERATURE COMPETITION

Congratulations to our writers and poets who have been recognised for their excellent entries in Fowey Arts and Literature competition.

Well done to Luca and Ruby who won their categories and Tabitha (Runner Up), all of whom were awarded generous prizes. Well done also to all the students who's entries were highly commended and received detailed feedback from the judging panel. Here are some of them with very proud teacher Miss Niles!

Last Friday we took part in #helloyellow. We asked our community to wear something yellow to show our young people that we are not alone with our mental health, we all struggle with how we are feeling at times and this year has been tougher than most..

And KERPOW! The response was amazing!

It turns out spotting the yellow in a person's outfit is great fun and being surrounded by the colour yellow is actually really uplifting too!

Thank you Richard Lander for your kindness and positive energy; for making the effort to show true solidarity.

UPDATE FROM THE ARK

The ARK students have been busy making sure that they are keeping up with national and world events. On 'National Poetry Day' (7th October) they recited a poem called 'Choose a poem' for the whole school to view. They urged all students to 'pick up a book and just get going'. They also embraced 'World Mental Health Day' by wearing yellow, learning about mental health in lessons and checking in on teachers and friends alike.

THE ARK PRESENTS.... THE GRUFFALO

Last term Layla, Devon, Bradley, Ben, Bronwin, Lewis, Alex, Charlie and Elliot, along with the Ark teachers, worked with Mrs Nortje, Mr Gibbons and filmmaker, Susan Lay to create shadow puppets and perform The Gruffalo by Julia Donaldson.

The beautiful puppets, expertly manipulated by our puppeteers, along with clear narration and the best Gruffalo voice actor you have ever heard made for a truly magical performance and the whole experience was greatly enjoyed by all.

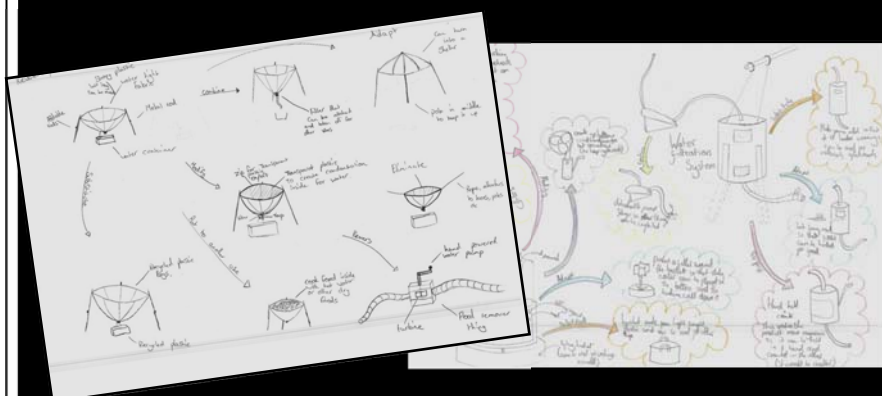

Due to Covid-19, it was not possible to invite a large live audience along, but Susan Lay's beautiful film really captures the creative process in the lead up, along with the performance itself.

Watch out for it on our social media and school website next week!

UPDATE FROM THE DESIGN TECHNOLOGY DEPARTMENT

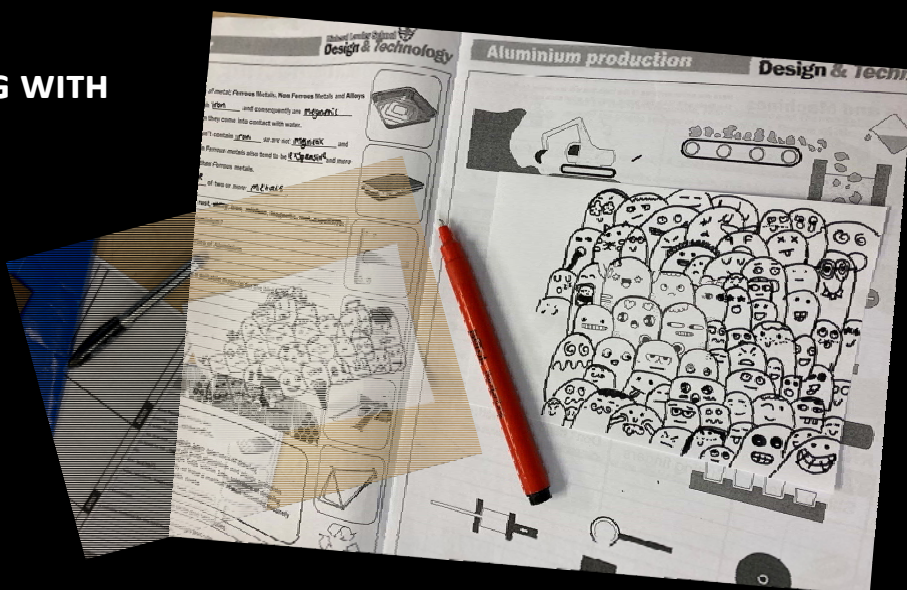

YEAR 11 DT SCAMPER TASK

Year 11 DT students were asked to SCAMPER (Substitute, combine, adapt, modify...) their GCSE design ideas to start thinking outside the box. As you can see they came up with some incredible, life changing design ideas! Huge well done to Oscar P, Finn M, Freddie H, Owen H, Harry H, Stan R, Archie and the rest of 11D/DT1!

KS3 GET IMAGINATIONS WORKING WITH DOODLES

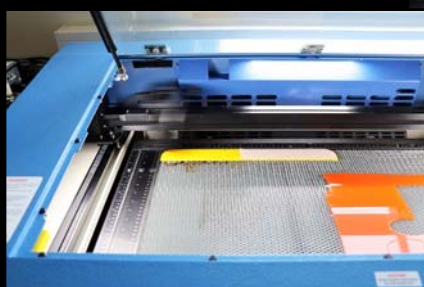

Key Stage 3 students are currently starting their Design Technology lessons with a doodling task. Whilst we like our students' exercise books and school work to be neat, we recognise that doodling has benefits in improved focus and stress relief! Students are really enjoying the activity and producing some great results. Read more about the benefits of doodling here:

<https://www.health.harvard.edu/blog/the-thinking-benefits-of-doodling-2016121510844>

NEW LASER CUTTER

We are really excited to receive delivery of our new Laser Cutter. Here are Isaac and Bailey—Year 10 Graphics and DT students using our fabulous new 60W metal-tube laser cutter. It is much more powerful than our old laser cutter so we can't wait to see what the students will produce using it. Watch this space!

CNC ANIMATION

Last term, 6 of Miss O'Connor's GCSE Graphics Students created an animation with Cornwall Council and Carbon Neutral Cornwall to introduce the Cornwall Youth Climate Crew - a group of Carbon Neutral Youth Ambassadors who are working with Cornwall Council. Our students created the majority of drawings/illustrations and story boarded the whole idea and the results are excellent.

This year, students from all year groups have been invited to channel their French and Spanish culture-inspired-creativity into designing covers for their Modern Foreign Languages exercise books. Here are some of their teachers' favourites.

Ms Bennett was really impressed with all of her student's French and Spanish inspired cover designs and here are just a few that caught our eye!

'MY FIRST SPANISH NUMBERS'

Ms Fewster has been getting to know her Year 7 Spanish class and was super impressed with these lovely little 'Mr First Spanish Numbers' books which students designed & produced for a homework task last week!

CELEBRATING BLACK HISTORY MONTH WELCOMING BRYAN KNIGHT BACK INTO SCHOOL

October is Black History Month; a wonderful opportunity to be part of national celebrations to honour the too-often unheralded accomplishments of Black Britons throughout our history.

We have been delighted to reconnect with former student, Bryan Knight, who is now a London-based journalist and oral historian. He hosts the Tell A Friend podcast, discussing current affairs and historical topics and he has been published in The Guardian, among many other journals, with an excellent article on Altheia Jones-Leconte who was at the forefront of the Black Power movement in the 60s and 70s.

Bryan presented an assembly to students, where he shared his experiences of being educated in Cornwall along with the importance of learning diverse histories, and some excellent resources where students can engage with Black history.

Why not start by reading some of Bryan's own work. Here on BBC Bitesize where Redruth gets a special mention <https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/articles/zvv27yc>

Or here in The Guardian <https://www.theguardian.com/society/2021/sep/09/altheia-jones-leconte-the-black-panther-who-became-a-mangrove-nine-hero>

Thank you so much Bryan for being so generous with your time.

Black History Month Celebrating Black Heritage I am Bryan

As a child, I found it extremely difficult to find pride in my Black identity whilst navigating a white environment, where my difference felt so stark and subnormal. My pride in my Blackness came through reading about my community's history and learning about our incredible ability to resist and overcome adversity. Whenever I think of the challenges my community has faced and how far we have elevated, despite centuries of oppression, I feel nothing but pride. I am proud to stand on the shoulders of so many giants who made sacrifices and paved the way for me. We may have come a long way but the struggle continues. A Luta Continua!

STUDYING MICROPLASTICS AND MAKING BIOPLASTICS

Students from year 10 and year 11 including several from our Eco team and Women in STEM were given the opportunity to make their own bio plastic thanks to an amazing workshop run by Janine Bisson, the Stem Project Coordinator at the Education Business Partnership along with Libby Challoner, a final year student at Falmouth University studying Sustainable Production, which combines design with science. Libby explained that, as it's "easy to make bioplastics" then "why aren't we doing more of it?"

The workshop began with a video introduction from Emily Stevenson, a marine biologist who set up the Beach Guardian project who explained the many different types of plastic that may wash up on our beaches, and how they can be collected, counted and analysed. (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MfDw_6PDn9w or <https://rtv.richardlander.cornwall.sch.uk/View.aspx?id=12909~5i~adrggXka8s>)

Students carefully separated out samples provided from various beaches into primary microplastics (those manufactured to be small such as nurdles and biobeads) and secondary microplastics (larger items that have been broken down ie by wave action). They then counted them to determine which beach they may have come from. Students spent time considering why the content is different at different sites.

Later students were given instructions for making their own bio plastic using agar extracted from seaweed collected locally, corn-starch and glycerol. They were able to experiment with proportions to change the properties of the plastic that they made, and add dyes to change their colour. Moulds were provided so that students could make various objects including dinosaurs and bees and honeycomb.

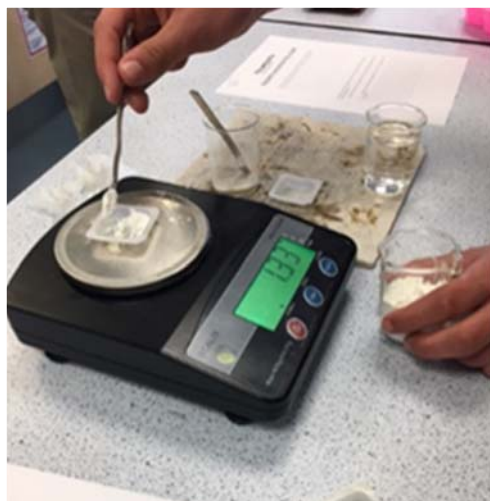

The students were commended on their interest and enthusiasm, and were equally excited to be able to take home their home-made bioplastic products. A big thankyou to Miss Cornish for organising such an inspirational opportunity for our students.

Well done, team!

CONGRATULATIONS MAWGAN!

A major highlight of this term has been getting to know our Year 7 students. They are a fantastic bunch of bright, kind & resilient students and we are delighted to have them all as part of our community.

We are discovering that some of them have remarkable skills..

Congratualtions to Mawgan who has recently secured a place in the South West Men's artistic gymnastics squad and is the only boy in his age group from Cornwall going to the National Finals in Birmingham! He will compete in November as an individual and also as part of the South West team.
